

Azusa Pacific University is a Christian university located at the foothills of the San Gabriel Mountains and has just over 4,000 undergraduate students. Our school motto is "God First" and it is the goal of the men's soccer program to put God first in everything we do, on and off the field.

APU offers a wide variety of academic disciplines and has recently been designated a National University by U.S. News and World Report. We are proud of our heritage and look forward to the future as we see God at work in our university. APU is a dynamic institution, and one that will continue to grow into the 21st century.

The Azusa Pacific soccer program is among the finest small university programs in the country and has a rich history of success. Last year we completed another stellar season winning the GSAC regular season championship for the second straight year, making it three out of the last five. Azusa Pacific has reached the National tournament four out of the past five years, making it to the championship match three times and winning the National Championship in 2007.

We constantly strive for excellence in our soccer program as we compete at the championship level. We are looking for the highest-level players who share in the vision of Azusa Pacific Soccer. Most of the players we recruit are premier level club players who have the ability to succeed in college right away. As a top level NAIA program, our level is competitive with that of many Division I teams and it is our goal to find players of the highest quality who are also looking to be a part of the Azusa Pacific community.

We are committed to developing the team to National Championship quality and developing the individual player to reach his soccer and personal best.
