OVERVIEW

My life is a rather unusual blend of creative and administrative engagements for the sake of the Kingdom. I am comfortable leading and being in front of others; however my strengths are in serving other leaders and in facilitating new leadership among others. Task and relationship are equally important to me in ministry, and creativity in both areas is vital to who I am. Strategic thinking and collaborative networking are central chords in my unusual range of interests and engagements. Above all, I seek to enjoy God and glorify Him.
