Program Offerings
Clinical Hours (Masters & Doctoral Students) – earn between 50 to 100 hours during this program
PPSY 798 Special Topics (2-3 units; Master’s and Doctoral students required to take a minimum of 2 doctoral-level units.)

Program Description  This program is open to Master’s and Doctoral Level students, Alumni of the Clinical Psychology Graduate Program, and any faculty within the school of Behavioral and Applied Sciences. Through this travel study program, students will have the opportunity to provide services to specific populations; namely, to AIDS orphans within an educational context (Providence Children’s Home and ByGrace Home and School) and to individuals/families who live in some of the largest slums in Kenya within a community context (Chosen Children of Promise and adjunctively as needed in liaison with Saint Thomas Medical Health Services). Other self-contained projects may be determined. The psychological issues prevalent in these Kenyan settings, combined with the students’ training in providing psychotherapeutic services, create a unique learning environment. More specifically, students will be given the opportunity to engage in a bi-directional educational atmosphere wherein they will be learning of the need and of how to provide culturally appropriate services while simultaneously providing services in response to clearly identifiable needs. Due to the nature of these needs, clinical services will be intense, and abundant hands-on supervision will be available.

Study Abroad Student Agreements

1. Policy Agreement: By signing below you are stating that you have thoroughly read each policy and are in agreement to follow each policy. (All undergraduate students need to fill in the necessary information in section D also.)

Student Signature: __________________________ (Signature Needed for Graduate & Undergraduate students)

A. Student Standards of Conduct Policy

Due to the unique nature of the study abroad experience, all persons participating in an Azusa Pacific University administered or endorsed Travel-Study Program shall be subject to the “Standards of Conduct” policy appearing in the APU Undergraduate Student Handbook, APU Graduate Catalog, or any similar Standards set by the particular program. In the case of conflicting standards, the more stringent standard applies. Because of the possibility of serious effects on group safety and coherence, on-field staff will deal with violations immediately and has discretion in imposing sanctions after investigating and holding a formal or informal hearing. The opportunity for appeal is limited by the nature of the study abroad experience. In addition to those listed in the Student Handbook, sanctions for violation of the Standards of Conduct while studying abroad include immediate expulsion from the program and the immediate return home of the participant, at the expense of the student participant. Additional sanctions may be imposed upon the student’s return to campus.

B. Student Disability and Healthcare Abroad

The Center for Global Learning & Engagement (CGLE), Azusa Pacific University, is committed to assisting all students in selecting study abroad opportunities that meet their needs, including students with disabilities. Many towns, communities, and institutions abroad are not equipped with wheelchair access or easily accessible for hearing or vision impairments. Further, some trips require activities that may be strenuous for some participants, including long climbs or hikes. The center will seek to advise students to appropriate study abroad programs for any disability needs. Students in this course/program who have a disability that might prevent them from fully demonstrating their abilities should meet with an advisor in the APU Learning Enrichment Center as soon as possible to initiate disability verification and discuss accommodations that may be necessary to ensure full participation in the successful completion of course/program requirements. Program directors and the CGLE will do as much as possible to ensure the overall safety of study abroad participants. However, specific or special needs should be researched by the individual participant. The CGLE can assist students with medication translation, healthcare facilities in nearby areas abroad, personal emergency planning, copies of important medical or travel documents (copies of passports, prescriptions, health insurance policies, etc.). If a student participant has been treated for depression, anxiety, eating disorders, or anything else that can be classified as a mental health condition, students should obtain appropriate insurance coverage for treatment abroad, separate from the global medical insurance provided from Azusa Pacific University. For more information, please contact the CGLE.

C. General Agreements

1. I will allow APU to use the photo from my student account and/or photos taken during the extent of my study abroad program for forms, marketing materials and recruitment.

2. I will allow APU to share contact/directory information with other APU staff, faculty, and students working/participating in my study abroad program.

I further promise to abide by the university’s policies as stated in the catalog and other printed materials, which state that my attendance in class, taking final examinations, release of grades, and participation in the graduation ceremony, is contingent upon timely payment of the monthly installments in accordance with the terms of the Note. I agree and understand that I will not be able to re-enter Azusa Pacific University or obtain grades, transcripts and diploma(s) until this Note is paid in full. I further agree that in the event bankruptcy is initiated by the undersigned or any of his creditors, the undersigned therefrom waives all access to transcripts and diploma(s) until all amounts are paid to the university.
