

This scholarship is in memory of the late Dr. Lillian B. Wehmeyer, former faculty in the School of Education doctoral program, who lived with a passion for assisting doctoral students in successful research. APU School of Education doctoral program students who are attending on a half- or full-time basis and who demonstrate satisfactory academic progress, evidence a commitment to service, and show financial need may apply for an award ranging from $1,000 to $3,000. Awards are based on the endowed fund amount, may vary year to year, and are available each Fall and Spring.

Application Process

Complete the application below and attach a brief (not to exceed two-pages) essay describing:

- reasons for pursuing a doctoral degree in education
• long-term career goals
• prospective contributions to your field
• prospective service to the community
• need for financial assistance

Return completed application with essay to:

Azusa Pacific University
Graduate and Professional Student Financial Services
PO Box 7000, Azusa CA 91702

OR

email to scholarships@apu.edu

Application deadline is August 5 for Fall and November 12 for Spring. Applicants will receive notification of the outcome after the committee has met.

First Name: [input] Last Name: [input] MI: [input]

Current Address: [input]

City: [input] State: [input] ZIP: [input]

Primary Phone: [input] Email: [input]

U.S. Citizen: [radio] OR Permanent Resident: [radio] APU Student ID (if assigned): [input]

Employer: [input] Position: [input]

Emphasis within the Ed.D. Program: [input]

Signature: [input] Date: [input]