APU STORIES

APU Alumnus Goes to Great Lengths to Capture Award-Winning Photograph

Azusa Pacific alumnus Randy Robbins ('99, '02), clutched his camera and eyed the distant trees, hoping today was the day. Water gently lapped against his kayak and a breeze drifted across the Northern California lake, nestled among sweeping forests and distant hillsides, as an eagle took flight. The beating of wings, splashing of water, and click of the camera shutter—in a flash, Robbins captured a spectacular shot of a bald eagle catching a fish, a photo he had been hunting for months.
