Scholastic Competitions

At the National Christian Colleges Forensics Tournament in March, APU students performed their way to national titles!

Rachelle DeYoung is the National Champion in both Prose Interpretation and Programmed Oral Interpretation. She also placed fourth in the nation in Dramatic Interpretation.

Tyler Endres is the National Champion in Poetry Interpretation. He also placed second in both Prose Interpretation and Programmed Oral Interpretation. He also received 3rd place in Individual Sweepstakes for excellence across multiple types of speaking events.

For these achievements, APU received a 1st Place Sweepstakes in the Limited Entry division.

Other awards the team received this weekend include:

Jake Beiswenger competed his way to elimination rounds in Lincoln-Douglas Debate.
Leanne Ronk was recognized as the 6th best debate speaker in the nation.

An award for Best Essay at a national convention.

Tamara Moellenberg won 2nd prize for the best essay in the Critical Paper category at the 2009 Annual Convention of the Sigma Tau Delta International Convention. The award ($300) was given for Tamara’s essay on William Faulkner.
For APU undergraduate students: Please send to apuhonors@apu.edu your recent conference presentations, publications, and awards for sharing with the APU community and for inclusion in a University database for internal and external review purposes.

APU Faculty: Please feel free to submit data on behalf of a student. We will contact the student to verify the information. Please also include activities in which you may serve as a co-author, co-presenter, etc. with the student on their scholarly work.

When submitting, please provide:

1) Student name
2) Student expected graduation date (e.g. May 2009)
3) Student major
4) Titles (Dr., Ms, Mrs., Miss, Mr.) & first & last names of co-authors/co-presenters.
5) Institutional affiliations for co-authors/co-presenters not at APU.
6) Department & status (faculty, adjunct, student) for APU co-authors/co-presenters
7) Date & city location for conference presentations or poster presentations.
8) Date, city and state for book publishers.

To assist with our common modified APA format:

1) Please capitalize only the first word in title of paper or publication.
2) Please use italics for paper, journal, and book titles.
